

SECRETARY MAJORS TALK OF VICTORY.

John C. Chase, of Haverhill, Says it Marks New Democracy's Spread.

REFORM FOR BROCKTON.

Local Battle for Municipal Ownership Has Now Fairly Begun.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 6.—The local Democracy has added a new triumph to its capital last year of Haverhill in the municipal elections.

Brockton is now in the local-Democratic column, and in the municipal elections candidates of the young party in other cities also polled votes that showed the decided growth of the new movement.

The elections were held in fifteen of the thirty-two cities of the State.

Charles H. Conter, the winner of the Mayorship in Brockton by the handsome plurality of 1,392, has been a resident of that city since the twentieth year, and nearly all of that time an employee of Brown & Morrow, plumbers and hardware dealers. He is twenty-nine years old.

"So far as I am concerned," he said to-night, after receiving the congratulations of thousands and speaking to additional thousands, both in the open air and at the Socialist's Hall, "this city will be run in the interests of the whole people."

"The measures which the voters have enacted into laws at this election I am heartily in favor of. I have always been a free man, and I recognize the will of the people above all personal views. They have voted for no license. No license will they get to the letter."

"The Social Democratic party, of which I am proud to be a member, declares for co-operation with the city government and the ownership of all the means of production and distribution."

"It will be my aim and that of my fellow Socialists in the city government to enter a wedge wherever possible for municipal ownership and see to it that no more such franchises are given away to any corporation whatever."

In Haverhill John C. Chase, the first Socialist Mayor to be elected in this country, was re-elected. He made this statement to-night:

"The Social-Democratic triumph is a victory for the working class of the world."

"The fact that the Social-Democrats in one short year compelled the leaders of the capitalist party to acknowledge the superiority of their defeat was a substantial victory in itself."

"The result is gratifying in more ways than one. First and foremost, because it is the first real battle won by Socialism on American soil, and second, because success came through honorable methods and unflinching devotion to the Socialist principles."

Brookton the victory is a sign that Socialism is spreading rapidly in spite of all opposition. We have made a grand start, and from this time on will continue to spread through the country."

GROUND BROKEN FOR THE MARIAM OSBORNE HOME.

Designed to Shelter Gentlewomen Reduced to Want and Will Cost Over Half a Million.

Work was begun yesterday on the new Mariam Osborne Home for Women, on the Boston Post Road, between Rye and Manaroneck, which will cost more than $500,000. The house will stand on a conspicuous site, overlooking Long Island Sound, and will be one of the finest institutions of its kind in the State.

The will of the late Mariam Osborne, widow of Charles Osborne, millionaire banker of New York, was a special provision for the home, with an endowment sufficient to sustain it without any outside pecuniary aid.

The eloquent of Howell Osborne with an ample fortune, and his wife, who died at an early age, bequeathed the heart of Mrs. Osborne, and she decided to devote a large part of her fortune for the benefit of women, especially gentlewomen reduced to want. The home will receive poor and aged women from all parts of the United States.

"ASTRAL SCIENCE" FOR GIRLS.

High School Misses' Patronage Brought Trouble for Allen.

F. T. Allen, of No. 530 Nostrand avenue, Brooklyn, who advertises himself as a "student of astral science," was charged in the Gates Avenue Court yesterday morning with having violated a city ordinance in failing to secure a permit for an advertising sign being placed in front of his house.

Allen's house is only a block from the girls' high school, and many of the girls patronized him to have their fortunes told. This caused the complaint, and the man was arrested on a technical charge.

Magistrate Worth dismissed the prisoner upon condition that he take down his sign or get a permit.

MARRIED UNDER ROSES AND SWEET TALK.

Pretty Wedding Ceremony Performed by Archbishop Ryan.

CHANCEL OF FLOWERS.

Many Attendants Added Beauty to the Totho-McGuire Nuptials.

Under a canopy of white roses and Southern smiles, Miss Clara Schinger Totho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Totho, was married last evening to Mr. J. De Smet McGuire, at the Hotel Marlborough. Seventy-second street and Central Park West. The ceremony, which took place in the Louis XVI drawing room, was performed by Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, assisted by the Rev. Father Taylor.

Through an aisle formed by quantities of white roses, carnations and lilies of the valley, the bride, in a gown of white crepe de chine, and carried by her father, who was given away by her father, wore a bouquet of white roses.

Her maid of honor, Miss Mabel O. of Meriden, Conn., was dressed in white crepe de chine, and carried white carnations. There were eight bridesmaids, Miss Carlotta and Miss Ernestine Knopf, of Linden, N. Y.; Miss Jessie Ward, Miss Jessie M. Mygatt, Miss May Dobbs, Miss Marie Wilson, Miss Gertrude Chase and Miss Mabel Schinger.

Mr. Ashton Devereaux was Mr. McGuire's best man, and the Messrs. Bassford, Tanagerman, Robert Ward, D. Coyle, Fenton Swift, Charles Genett, Edward Totho and W. M. Gilpin served as ushers.

After the marriage, which was witnessed by about 400 friends of the bride and bridegroom, supper was served in the banquet hall.

Steinberg—Friede. Miss Julia Louis Steinberg, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Steinberg, of No. 1120 Madison street, was married at noon yesterday at Delmonico's, to Mr. Marcus Sergey Friede. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Joseph Rothchild. Mr. M. Rytenberg was the best man. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Gustav Gotthel, a wedding breakfast was served.

ALL FOR TUNNELS NOW.

$75,000 Asked for Surveys for Two Under the East River.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Improvements yesterday, the Controller Levy presented a resolution asking for the appropriation of $75,000 to be used in investigating plans for a tunnel under the East River, from the foot of Whitehall street, New York, to the foot of Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn.

The resolution was adopted unanimously. Present, Bowler, of the Borough of Queens, then offered a similar resolution asking for an appropriation of $25,000, to be used in making surveys for a tunnel, to be built connecting the Borough of Manhattan and the Borough of Queens. This resolution was also adopted.

TRUCKS ROBBERED OF $20,000 IN GOODS.

Marauders Work on an Organized System and Defy Capture.

HARVEST IN HOLIDAYS.

The Truckmen's Association Appeals to the Police for Protection.

New York truckmen are much disturbed over the depredations of a gang of thieves who have been robbing loaded trucks on the water front and in the open streets. It is said that $20,000 worth of goods have been lost in this way within the last fourteen days.

So serious has the situation become that at the meeting of the Truckmen's Association, Monday night, the subject was discussed, and the secretary of the association, W. V. Hughes, of No. 101 Duane street, was instructed to confer with the police to see if some special protection could be afforded the truckmen.

Very few business houses in New York have their private trucks. Nearly all heavy hauling is done by the truckmen, who have their own wagons and drivers, and who make themselves responsible for the safe handling of all goods entrusted to them. There are about 12,000 truckmen in the city. It is one of the obligations of the trade that all losses shall be borne by the driver in charge.

Secretary Hughes, of the Truckmen's Association, says the railroad and steamship companies are in part responsible for the condition which makes possible the robbery of trucks. All of these companies have their cashiers' offices on a second floor, and the truckmen are obliged to pay the freight bills or get receipts signed for goods to be shipped if it is necessary for the drivers to lose sight of their wagons.

SCHOOL BOARD DEIFIED BY SUPERINTENDENT JASPER.

Tells It Has No Power Over Him or Can Make Him Give Reasons for His Actions.

Commissioner Burlington started a lively discussion at the meeting of the School Board for Manhattan and the Bronx, yesterday, when he introduced a resolution that Superintendent Jasper be requested to give his reasons for passing adversely on the renewal of a teachers' license for Miss C. M. Banks, of School No. 19.

Superintendent Jasper became intensely excited and said that he would not give his reasons for passing adversely on any one else and would not give his reasons for his actions.

Mr. Burlington characterized Mr. Jasper's action as arbitrary and said: "It is my duty that this teacher should not fall a victim to the pride of office."

Mr. Epstein said: "The superintendent and board superintendent are creatures of the board, and as such we ought to be able to compel them to answer all questions."

The resolution was finally lost by a vote of 8 to 4, Commissioners Burlington, Epstein, Rogers and Lee voting in its favor.

HIS WIFE WARNED HIM HE WOULD DIE AS HE DID.

Heinschon Laughed at Her Presentment, but Was Crushed to Death Under Heavy Timbers.

Time and again Mrs. John Heinschon begged her husband to give up his employment as lumber handler. "I feel that you will be killed at it some day," she said. Her husband laughed at her fears.

Yesterday while Heinschon was hoisting a huge beam in Alexander E. Orr's lumber yard, Greenpoint, it fell from the derrick, knocking over a great pile of timbers, under which Heinschon was buried, and his fellow workmen got him out, but he was so dreadfully mangled that he died before he could be taken to the hospital.

His last words were "My wife warned me only this morning that she feared this end for me."

Heinschon's widow is left with eight children. They live at Thirty-sixth street and First avenue, this city. Heinschon was forty-two years old.

Falling Girder Fatally Hurt Mohr.

While at work on the erection of the new school building at Amsterdam avenue and One Hundred and Second street, yesterday, Martin Mohr, twenty-two, 2406 124th avenue, was crushed and almost instantly killed by the falling of an iron girder which he was supporting. He was taken to the H. J. Hood West Hospital removed him to the hospital. There is little hope for his recovery.
